

Badgerdog Creative Writing Summer Camp

Each spring break and summer, Badgerdog hosts writing workshops for rising 3rd- through 12th-graders. These fun and challenging writing workshops allow students to work closely with a professional writer as they explore the arts of poetry, fiction, nonfiction, and playwriting. All campers experience the joy of reading, writing, and sharing their original work.

At the end of the summer, all three-week summer camp students will have their work published in one of two professionally produced anthologies—Rise, for elementary-aged writers, and Emerge, for middle- and high-school writers.

In the fall, Badgerdog hosts a Young Authors Reading & Anthology Launch, where selected campers perform their work and celebrate the launch of the anthologies. All summer camp writers are invited to attend!

This summer, Badgerdog is offering both in person workshops at multiple campuses across Austin, which meet daily M-F from 9AM to noon, and online workshops, which meet for an hour and a half daily M-F on Zoom. Virtual campers will also use Google Drive to upload their work and receive feedback from their teaching artist as they move through the editing and revision process.

For more than 10 years, Badgerdog’s Creative Writing Summer Camp has given Austin youth a space to fall in love with writing, discover authentic self-expression, learn from a professional writer, and publish original work. Badgerdog Summer Camp Workshops are labeled according to the grade that students will be entering in the fall. Parents say Badgerdog helps kids and teens write with greater skill, comfort, and enthusiasm. Campers say Badgerdog helps them find confidence and play in the writing process.

19th Annual Brandy Perryman Shooting Camp

During the basketball season, if you walk into a local gym, you will most likely find a coach focusing his/her team on the offense or defense for the upcoming game. How often does the average basketball player focus on individual skills during that time? Not much!

For obvious reasons, the focus during the season is on the team rather than the individual. That's why the summertime is the best time for an aspiring player to improve his/her own skills. Particularly the lost art of shooting.

Brandy Perryman knows a thing or two about shooting. His record 90% free throw shooting average during his 4-year career at The University of Texas still stands. He is also ranked 5th for 3 pointers made in Longhorn basketball history. Those 43 camps he attended as a child must have paid off. They are still paying off as Perryman prepares for his 18th annual Brandy Perryman Shooting Camp in the Austin area, teaching boys and girls ages 7-16 the lost art of shooting.

BPSC is a 4-day shooting intense basketball camp mirrored after all the camps Perryman attended and enjoyed the most as a kid. He has taken those camps with his combined playing experience and created an upbeat, positive experience for Austin area youth.

All camps include 32 hours of instruction, which is approximately the same amount of time as a month of practice in Middle School or a full season of a youth league. Daily team competitions are the highlight of the week, allowing kids to be a part of a team with no pressure and to have fun.

To promote self-esteem and self-discipline, BPSC includes individualized drills and competitions throughout the camp that all campers have an opportunity to excel at and improve their shooting skills. An average camper shoots over 1,000 shots over 4 days at BPSC.

The 10:1 camper to coach ratio allows campers to develop skills in a small group. These coaches include head coaches, assistant coaches, collegiates, and former players that all share the knowledge and enthusiasm required to be a BPSC camp instructor.

By instructing 16,000 campers over the past 23 summers, BPSC has gained a reputation as the premier basketball camp in Central Texas.

Girls Empowerment Network Advocating for Texas Girls

For 25 years families and school leaders across Texas have turned to Girls Empowerment Network to help their school-age girls believe in their ability to be unstoppable. A generation later, the organization continues to advocate for girls with virtual workshops and programs, hands-on activities, and in-person programs in 133 schools across Texas since 2017.

Self-Efficacy Skills for Girls

In 1996, the concerns of 12 mothers in Austin, Texas bonded them to each other and to a vision of a world where girls believe in themselves and their opportunities all the way through puberty and into womanhood.

“THEY HELPED MOLD WHO I AM TODAY: A HARDWORKING, CONFIDENT WOMAN.”

Today, Girls Empowerment Network helps more than 5,000 girls annually in 3rd-12th grade know that they are powerful, through Girl Connect, summer programs, conferences, Spark Kits, and more. The organization’s mission is to increasing self-efficacy: the belief in their ability to succeed. This is more than just about bolstering their self-esteem. They gain skills they can use for a lifetime.

Girls boost their self-efficacy using the Six Cs—confidence, coping skills, collaboration, communication, critical thinking, and creativity. When girls feel they can be successful, they become powerful.

A LASTING, POSITIVE IMPACT ON TEXAS GIRLS

When surveyed, Girls Empowerment Network alumni shared that they believed Girls Empowerment Network influenced their ability to succeed.

Since 1996, Girls Empowerment Network has been helping girls discover

“THEY ENCOURAGED ME AND CONSTANTLY TOLD ME THAT I AM MORE THAN CAPABLE OF SUCCESS. THEY BELIEVED IN MY POWER AND MADE ME BELIEVE TOO.”

they are powerful. Through school-based programs, camps, events, workshops and Spark Kits, Girls Empowerment Network ignites the power in girls ages 8–18 by teaching them skills to thrive and believe in their ability to be unstoppable
